

LA POBLA DE VALLBONA (El Camp de Túria) Museu Etnològic La Casa Gran (La Casa Gran Museum of Ethnology)

Participating institutions: Town Council of La Pobla de Vallbona
Museu Valencià d'Etnologia (Valencian Museum of Ethnology)

Inaugurated in 2008, this museum is located in an 18th century house that has been the home to important landowners. It is comprised of three buildings that surround a patio. The rooms used by the lords of the manor and those occupied by the foreman's family can be visited as well as the more mercantile spaces such as an olive oil mill, a wine press and cellar and the shop where wine and oil were sold. The Council of La Pobla de Vallbona carried out restoration work on the building, whilst the Museu Valencià d'Etnologia was responsible for giving advice to the project and for designing and executing the musealisation: settings of the different rooms, placement of information panels and execution of two audiovisuals. The museum offers an important series of activities throughout the year, such as temporary exhibitions (own and external), conferences, music performances, plays and publications.
